

Gina Catalano
Director of Operations, Arizona MEP

Gina Catalano has over 20 years of successful industry and manufacturing extension leadership experience. She is a dynamic and motivated leader with a demonstrated track record in bringing stable growth and profitability to organizations in times of change or crisis. She has held key positions in operations and marketing for Enterprise Minnesota (formerly Minnesota Technology, Inc.) and WMEP during both start-up and mid-life phases. She most recently was Vice President of a mid-sized manufacturing company in Minnesota responsible for operations which included manufacturing, purchasing, customer service, product development, and human resources.

Ms. Catalano's expertise includes strategic planning and implementation, business development, financial management, integrated and small business marketing strategies, and organization change management. She holds a B.A. in Mathematics from the University of California, Santa Barbara and Master of Public Administration from California State University, East Bay.